Amazing business opportunity with great work life balance and minimal hours of operation!

- Respected Brand with 20+ Years of Credibility
  SOS Dog Obedience has become a household name in the Melbourne dog training scene. The brand is associated with reliability, results, and no-nonsense behavioural solutions trusted by pet owners, vets, rescue organisations, and industry professionals.

- Fully Mobile Training Model
  The business operates as a mobile service, meaning you don't need a physical facility. Training is done at a primary school close by, which keeps overheads incredibly low while offering flexible service delivery. All you need is a vehicle and basic gear.

- Client Database & Referral Network
  Hundreds of past clients and ongoing referrals come from word-of-mouth, online searches, vets, pet professionals, and rescues. You'll be taking over a pipeline that consistently produces new work with minimal paid advertising.

- Proven Training System

The SOS Dog Obedience training system is effective, easy to teach, and built around real-life results. It covers obedience, behavioural correction, aggression, anxiety, and more. The current owner will provide support during the handover to ensure you're confident in the methodology.

- Low Overheads, High Margins
  Because it's a mobile and service-based business, there's low/no rent, no staff (unless you choose to expand), and minimal equipment costs. Most of the revenue comes from high-value private sessions, making the profit margins excellent.

- Flexible Lifestyle & Work Hours
  You can choose how many clients you take on per week and when you work. This is a lifestyle-friendly business — perfect for someone who wants autonomy, work-life balance, and meaningful client relationships.

- Consistent Demand & Booked in Advance
  The business regularly books out weeks in advance with minimal advertising. Behavioural training and aggression issues aren't something people try to DIY — they seek out professionals, and SOS is who they call.

- Ready to Scale
  Right now, the business is a solo operation, but there's potential to grow quickly by bringing on junior trainers, offering group sessions, developing online training programs, or expanding to new locations across Victoria.
